

Laptop crucial to Friday's national trials stolen

Monday, 22 June 2009

A crucial piece of equipment needed for this weekend's hosting of the National Senior Track and Field Championships has been stolen.

The theft took place at the offices of the Jamaica Amateur Athletics Association (JAAA) at the National Arena in Kingston Sunday night.

The incident has occurred only four days before the 3-day national championships is set to start of Friday at the National Stadium.

Trevor Campbell executive member of the JAAA, made an appeal for the stolen laptop to be returned.

"Please return it, it has valuable information on it (and) if we don't get it back, we probably won't be able to conduct the meet this weekend. Leave it some place and let us know ... we'll be more than happy to pick it up," he said.

The laptop is the only item reported missing.
